

trip with the football team after having been parked in storage in Las Vegas, Nev., for three years, its owner said.

The same plane veered off a runway and bent a propeller when a landing gear collapsed as it tried to take off from Oklahoma City to pick up the Wichita State team for a flight to West Texas State the previous weekend, the FAA said.

FAA spokesman James R. Greenwood said preliminary figures showed the plane weighed an estimated 48,900 pounds upon its takeoff to climb the towering Rockies after a refueling stop in Denver Friday. The maximum takeoff weight listed in specifications for the Martin 404 plane is 44,900 pounds.

A spokesman for the National Transportation Safety Board, which is spearheading the probe, said the plane may have flown into a blind canyon, been unable to escape, and crashed into a ridge at the foot of the Continental Divide, where a wall of mountains rises abruptly.

In a Denver hospital, co-pilot Ronald Skipper said the plane was flying a scenic sight-seeing route through the mountains, but declined to discuss the details of the crash.

Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe said the Justice Department may be asked into the investigation.

"The evidence we have to date suggests there may have been some wrongdoing," Volpe said, but he refused to elaborate.

The FAA confirmed that one of its officials had cautioned Wichita State nearly two months ago that the small air firm, Golden Eagle Aviation, had no license to fly a passenger plane as large as the Martin 404.

In Wichita, President Clark Ahlberg of WSU said he would reserve comment on the government reports until the public hearing opens.

However, Golden Eagle replied that both pilots had the required licenses. And it said the firm didn't need an operation certificate for that size craft since it was only furnishing a crew to Wichita State, which had rented the plane from another company.

In what appeared to be a major loophole, the FAA conceded its rules setting stiff new safety standards for air taxi firms don't apply to a college that leased planes to ferry its football team.

DALE FRANKS

Newly installed Kiwanis President, Dale Franks, presided at Tuesday's meeting of Hope Kiwanis Club, and outlined some of the things he hopes may be accomplished during this Kiwanis year.

He appointed his committees, and introduced the following Chairmen of the Community Service Committees: Boys and Girls Work, Clyde Davis; Key Club, E. P. Young, Jr.; Vocational Guidance, David Stewart; Agriculture and Conservation, Horace Fuller; Public and Business Affairs, Tom Hays, Jr.; Support of Churches in their Spiritual Aims, Jack Lowe; Hempstead County Civic and Youth Center, Dean Murphy; Pancake Supper, Bill Mudgett; Variety Show, Eddie Whitman; and Operation Drug Alert, Gordon Renshaw. Other Chairmen named for the Administrative Operation of the Club were Teddy Jones, Robert Dennis, Revis Edmonds, Kenneth Hamilton, Royce Weisenberger, F. C. Crow, Larry Patterson, Paul O'Neal, Bill Butler, Henry Haynes and Doug Haynie.

The theme for Kiwanis International for the 1970-71 year is Improve the Quality of Life.

Possibility of Tornado Near Conway

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Authorities said that a possible tornado caused damage in a small area about four miles west of Conway late Tuesday.

Power lines were reported down and a shed and barn were damaged at the home of Robert Speer, authorities said. A mobile home was also reportedly blown over but no one was injured.

Miss Power to Make Debut

ROME (AP) — Taryn Power, the 17-year-old daughter of the late Tyrone Power and of actress Linda Christian, is going to make her movie debut.

She will star as St. Clare of Assisi, foundress of the Poor Clares, in a film on the life of St. Francis of Assisi, called "Brother Sun, Sister Moon."

Her elder sister, Romina, 19, made her movie debut in 1965 but married Italian pop singer Al Bano July 26 and announced she was quitting her career.

Air force officers loyal to Ovando countered by proclaiming Gen. Torres "president of the revolutionary committee."

He set up headquarters at the La Paz air base. He sent six planes over the presidential palace for a 15-minute attack, and other leftist forces machine-gunned Miranda's command post. Bolivia's armed forces headquarters.

Torres broadcast an appeal over a university radio station for Bolivians to "mobilize against the triumvirate." Two of Ovando's civilian cabinet ministers—E. Ortiz Mercado, planning minister, and Oscar Bonifaz, minister of mines—announced they were joining Torres.

The junta ordered a nationwide curfew from midnight until 6 a.m., but the streets of La Paz already were virtually deserted, and the airport was closed after the attack on the palace.

Miranda claimed Tuesday night—before Sattori resigned—that the junta had control of the country and said it would appoint a president soon. Torres issued a communique promising a government of military and civilians, including "workers and those from the university."

Bolivia has been under military rule almost continually since 1964, when Ovando and Rene Barrientos, the air force commander, overthrew President Victor Paz Estenssoro. The two were copresidents until 1966, when Barrientos won a presidential election and Ovando became commander of the armed forces.

Ovando was slated to win the presidential election this year, but the death of Barrientos in a plane crash in April 1969 elevated his civilian vice president, Luis Adolfo Siles. Siles and Ovando didn't get along, and five months later the general decided not to wait for the election and threw Siles out.

Likelihood of Showers Continues

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The likelihood of showers and thundershowers will continue in Arkansas through Thursday.

Little temperature change is forecast through Thursday but a cold front is expected to move into the state Thursday night or Friday morning.

Wednesday morning, the front runs out of a low over South Central Canada across Central Lake Superior into a low in Southeast Colorado and on into a low near Las Vegas.

Highs Tuesday climbed into the 70s and 80s across most of the state. Harrison was the exception with a 68-degree high. Pine Bluff and Little Rock were the warmest spots in the state with highs of 85.

Overnight lows included 65 at Fayetteville, 64 at Harrison, 63 at Jonesboro, 67 at Pine Bluff, 67 at Texarkana, 68 at El Dorado, 66 at Memphis, 68 at Little Rock and 65 at Fort Smith.

Ex-Wife Tells Why Faubus Was Beaten

HUNTSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Alta Faubus, ex-wife of former Gov. Orval E. Faubus, says that Faubus' divorce and remarriage "had much to do with his defeat" in the Democratic gubernatorial primary.

Faubus lost to Dale Bumpers of Charleston.

Mrs. Faubus, in an article in the Madison County Record, said that his divorce and remarriage "hurt him more than any one thing."

"I have been asked a number of times what happened Sept. 8 that caused Orval's defeat," she said. "The press was against him. The prison scandal, the Arkansas Loan & Thrift scandal and his part in George Wallace's campaign hurt."

Mrs. Faubus said, however, that the largest factor in Faubus' defeat was the divorce and remarriage.

She said that Bumpers won because he avoided a personal attack on Faubus and because he "appealed to the best instincts of the majority of the voting people."

When Agnew arrived at Greater Pittsburgh Airport, he was asked about Scott's support for "Republicans everywhere."

Agnew replied: "Sen. Scott, as you know, is the minority leader of the U.S. Senate and he's the mother hen of all Republicans in the Senate. Sometimes it's very difficult for a mother hen to realize she's sitting on a bad egg."

At the dinner, Agnew said that since 1969 Goodell "has sought flamboyantly and ceaselessly to openly divorce himself from our President and from the Nixon administration."

"When anyone—of either party—constantly disavows, incessantly upbraids, and wages war on his own President in every major issue area, he consciously alienates himself from his own party and thereby forfeits a right to his administration's support."

The statement was met by long, loud cheers and applause. Scott sat silently puffing on his pipe.

Agnew said that although Scott has differed on occasion with the administration, he supports his re-election bid because "on most great issues of our time, this Republican leader has fought faithfully, courageously and skillfully, arm-in-arm with this administration."

Demonstrators Paid More Than Cashiers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Welfare Commissioner Len E. Blaylock says some persons who have participated in demonstrations at the Pulaski County Welfare Office are receiving more money in welfare benefits than the food stamp cashiers at the office receive in wages.

Blaylock said the starting salary of a food stamp cashier ranged from $276 to $339 a month, depending on the cashier's job classification.

Gina Quits Show Six Times

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gina Lollobrigida quit six times while rehearsing for her first television drama and the sixth time she accepted, producer-director Barry Shear says.

That, Shear said Tuesday, is why Geraldine Page has replaced the Italian actress in a segment of the "Name of the Game" television series.

Shear said Miss Lollobrigida insisted on too many script changes in the segment, "A Sister from Napoli," in which she was to play a Roman Catholic nun.

The producer added: "She found a lot of reasons why she would quit that I personally believed were based on her uncomfortable feeling at working in this country, as a guest star, at the pace we do TV. We shot 10 pages a day and do 90-minute shows, the equivalent of a feature film, in 10 days instead of two or three months, which she is used to."

Miss Lollobrigida, contacted at the home of a friend, replied, "complete nonsense." She said she once did a 20-page TV special in Italy on very short notice.

She said the "Name of the Game" script was bad and inadequate.

Children program is $141 a month. Blaylock said a family can obtain a various amount of food stamps as the size of the household increases.

More Data About Social Security

By KEN HARGIS

If you have any questions regarding social security, I invite your letters. Just send them to Ken Hargis, Social Security Administration, P.O. Box 1319, Texarkana, Texas 75501.

Q. I am a construction worker. In my trade it is customary to work for many different contractors over a period of years. How can I determine if my wages have been properly reported?

A. We are sending you a postcard form, "Request for Earnings Statement." When our central accounting office receives the completed form, a statement of your earnings record will be mailed to you. If there is an error in the amount reported, get in touch with your social security office for further action.

Q. My earnings have always been high. Is there a limit on how much I can get credit for in a year for social security purposes?

A. Yes. The maximum which could be credited each year was $3,000 for 1937 - '50; $3,600 for 1951 - '54; $4,200 for 1955 - '58; $4,800 for 1959 - '65; $6,600 for 1966 - '67; $7,800 for 1968 and up to this time.

Q. This year I won't earn as much as $7,800 from any one employer, but my total earnings may be twice that much. How is that handled?

A. In this case, you will receive credit for $7,800. However, each of your employers is required to report wages up to the maximum for the year and to remit taxes on the amount they pay you. There is no adjustment on the employer's part of the tax, but next year when you file your income tax return, you claim an adjustment on the employee's part of the tax in excess of the amount applicable to the maximum earnings which can be credited for the year.

Q. I have saved a pretty good little nest egg, and my interest and dividends are considerable. Will this income have any effect on my social security?

A. None at all. Income of this type is capital income and not earnings; only earnings are considered in applying the retirement test.

Contract for Camden Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., said Monday the Army has awarded a $1,777,500 contract to the Pace Corp. of Memphis, Tenn., for the manufacturing of flares and fuses.

Mama Steals Show at Wilder Wedding

LONDON (AP) — Michael Wilding, the son of actress Elizabeth Taylor, was married to the daughter of an American oceanographer today. Mama stole the show.

Wilding, 18, married Beth Clutter, 19, the daughter of Robert Clutter of Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Lee Breiting of Portland.

The one with the flowing, shoulder-length locks was the groom. The new Mrs. Wilding had her short hair done up in ringlets, a la Little Orphan Annie.

Wilding wore a maroon velvet kaftan and matching trousers, set off with a medallion pendant and a pair of sandals. The bride wore a more traditional white satin wedding chemise with wide sleeves that flared at the elbows. She wore a garland of lilies-of-the-valley in her hair.

Most of the crowd of 500 that gathered outside the Caxton Hall Register Office wasn't much interested in the wedding.

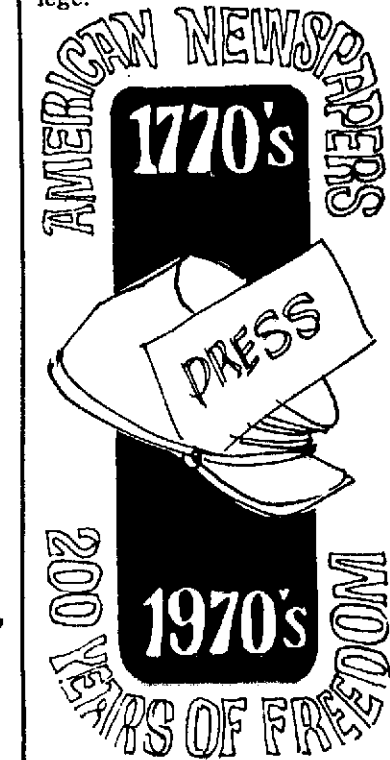

"It's Liz we want to see," said one woman. "She is still the best-looking woman in the world." The crowd cheered when the 38-year-old actress appeared with actor Richard Burton, her fifth husband.

Young Wilding is Miss Taylor's son by her second husband, actor Michael Wilding.

Burton, conventionally dressed in a gray suit and striped shirt, was best man. Miss Taylor wore a white wool trouser suit with a maxlength cardigan and a pearl necklace.

The bride's parents were unable to attend the ceremony. The Wildings will live in an apartment given to them as a wedding present by Miss Taylor. Burton gave them a sports car.

A spokesman for Miss Taylor said Wilding is studying for final secondary school examinations and plans to go on to college.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — This is the week when the noncommercial television network takes off on what appears to be a flying start of a new season.

Last year, with "Sesame Street" and "The Forsyte Saga," many viewers who had carefully skipped the educational station within dialing range, tuned in and remained to enjoy and appreciate. This season, public broadcasting has more money and talent going for it than ever before.

A report from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting estimated recently that about three-quarters of the population is within range of some public broadcasting station, although some of the stations are in the UHF zone requiring special antennae for reception.

Along with the returning "Sesame Street" and reruns of "The Forsyte Saga," the public broadcasting stations—around 200 of them—have an impressive list of special treats in store. It even includes a new batch of cooking shows from Julia Child, until recently educational television's one reasonably smash hit.

Tonight, the National Educational Television Network will start broadcasting the impressive 13-part "Civilisation" which is Lord Kenneth Clark's illustrated treatment of 1,600 years of Western culture. The ambitious undertaking was created and narrated by Lord Clark, Britain's distinguished art historian.

Work on the series, commissioned by the British Broadcasting Company, occupied Lord Clark and executive producer Michael Gill over a two-year period and carried them through much of Western Europe and to the United States. The finished product was received with unexpected enthusiasm by British audiences and was acquired for use here under a grant by an American corporation.

Also on this week's agenda—Thursday night in most places—is a 90-minute tribute to Helen Hayes: "Portrait of an American Actress." Miss Hayes has been a professional performer for 65 years and will celebrate her 70th birthday on Saturday.

Injunction Action Delayed

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge G. Thomas Elisele has taken under advisement the question of whether to grant a temporary injunction requiring Piggott school officials to reinstate Stephen Parker, 17, to Piggott High School.

Parker, a senior, was suspended Sept. 4 because school officials said his hair was too long.

—nudging, really—about something like this for five or six years, but I kept pushing it away," Miss Hayes said. "But when they said they wanted to do it as a birthday present, I had to give in.

"I wandered around and talked a lot for two weeks. But however it turns out, at least it has fixed in time my garden in my home at Nyack. I worked in it most of the summer and the roses have been really good this year."

It is a lot more than that—still pictures of Miss Hayes at various points in her career: taped interviews in which she reminisces and philosophizes; a segment in which she is directing a play in which she appeared a half century ago; and re-enactments of some of her most famous roles, including Mary of Scotland and Victoria.

Bumpas Is Lineman of Week in SWC

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas defensive Coach Charley Coffey coached Steve DeLong and Loyd Phillips the year each won the Outland Trophy, but says neither played better than Arkansas defensive tackle Dick Bumpas Saturday night against Texas Christian University.

"Bumpas trapped the passer two times, forced two bad passes and caused two interceptions," Coffey said. "He also had five unassisted tackles and two assists. He played as well as any lineman I've ever been around."

For his performance, the 225-pound senior was named The Associated Press' Southwest Conference defensive player of the week.

"Bumpas played the best game of his career," said Razorback Coach Frank Broyles after reviewing films of Arkansas' 49-14 victory over the Horned Frogs. "In fact, it may have been the best game by a down lineman since we've been here."

"I kind of surprised myself when I watched films of the game," Bumpas said. "I guess I played better because my hand was better and that was our first conference game."

Bumpas broke the thumb on his right hand in fall practice and played the first three games of the season with the thumb immobilized by tape.

Bumpas said the Arkansas defense had a special incentive against the Frogs.

"(Steve) Judy pretty well embarrassed us last year," Bumpas said of the TCU quarterback. "He ran us all over the last year. We knew what we had to do and we made up our minds that we weren't going to let them do the same thing to us this year."

Arkansas made a clean sweep of the weekly honors when quarterback Bill Montgomery was named offensive player of the week.

Montgomery, a senior who has led Arkansas to two straight 9-1 seasons, completed 13 of 20 passes for 265 yards against TCU.

"He's really got the touch now," Broyles said. "He can lay it in there nice and soft on a deep pattern."

Montgomery set up Arkansas' first touchdown against TCU with a 62-yard toss to Chuck Dicus and then hooked up with John Rees on a 60-yard play that set up the Razorbacks' fourth score.

Since the season opener against Stanford, Montgomery has completed 32 of 46 passes for 524 yards. His performance against TCU vaulted the 180-pound senior into the conference total offense lead with 792 yards on 109 plays.

Montgomery's passing yardage and his execution of the option play put Arkansas on the road to a 650 yard production against TCU, the second highest total in a game matching two SCW opponents.

"Montgomery's execution was the best he has ever had," Broyles said. "He is operating the option play and the passing game. It takes eight or nine players to cover the option and when you're hitting the passes to go with it, you can make some yardage."

Montgomery, however, said he did not think his performance was exceptional.

"Things just worked out," he said. "There wasn't any kind of super execution. We're getting

Mississippi Player Is Honored

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi linebacker Crowell Armstrong says he broke through Alabama's pass protection so easily Saturday night "because our front four took so many people with them they were leaving me wide open."

Armstrong, a 6-foot-1, 210-pound, junior from Houston, Miss., didn't need any further invitation. He and his Rebel teammates destroyed Alabama's vaunted passing game, dumping quarterback Neb Hayden for losses totaling 105 yards in Mississippi's 48-23 nationally televised victory.

Armstrong accounted for 52 of those yards on six stops and also dropped halfback Buddy Seay for a two-yard loss, earning him the Associated Press National College Lineman of the Week award.

"It's a great privilege to get an honor like that," the physical education major said, "but I thought our whole defense really played great."

"Last year I thought we gave their passer a little too much time," he said. "This year we put more heat on 'em. We decided we would just have to blitz and our front four made it easy taking people out when they were double teamed."

"Our entire defensive team played extremely well and Armstrong was particularly outstanding," said Coach John Vaughn. "He was tremendous. Crowell played the best line-backing job that we've had in several years."

Armstrong, who scored 34 touchdowns as a star halfback in high school, was credited with eight tackles and four assists.

"Alabama never quit," Armstrong said. "They were always coming at us. I don't think they have to worry about winning some more football games. You go up against an offense like Alabama has and you've got your work cut out for you."

Paul "Bear" Bryant, who used awesome defenses to win three national championships at Alabama in the 1960s, said, "In front of a national television audience, it's got to be embarrassing how the Mississippi line got to Hayden so often."

A little more confident."

Montgomery said even though his pass completion percentage has gone up that this was due to receivers running their routes better and that their timing is better.

The TCU game was the first in which Montgomery has thrown the bomb several times. He said this was part of the game plan because they had noticed that TCU's secondary played their first opponents tight.

Leaders Are Picked to Win Games

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The conference races get going in earnest this weekend with such early classics as Southern California-Stanford in the Pacific-8, Missouri-Nebraska in the Big Eight, Michigan-Purdue in the Big Ten, Mississippi-Georgia in the Southeastern and Princeton-Dartmouth in the Ivy League.

Spicing the menu are such traditional staples as the annual Texas-Oklahoma war in Dallas and Army-Notre Dame at South Bend.

Southern California at Stanford. Three minutes after last year's game was over, with USC winning 26-24 on Ron Ayala's last-second 34-yard field goal, hardly any of the 82,812 stunned spectators had left the Los Angeles Coliseum. The year before it was 27-24, with Ayala also providing the winning points on a 34-yard field goal.

In fact, USC has beaten Stanford 12 in a row since 1957. So you know the Indians are out for revenge and they had to be thinking Trojan thoughts when they lost to Purdue last weekend, with Jim Plunkett throwing five interceptions.

Stanford kept five injured regulars out of the Purdue game and four of them are expected back Saturday. "Plunkett is as good as any quarterback who ever played out here," says USC's John McKay.

But the Trojans have a quarterback named Jimmy Jones, who, says McKay, "has one advantage—he's never lost a game." In McKay's words, Southern Cal "runs at you for a while and then passes over you."

They run at you with as deep a group of backs as any coach could want—tailbacks Clarence Davis, Lou Harris, Mike Berry and Rod McNeil and fullbacks Charlie Evans, Sam Cunningham and Bill Holland.

Attention Rose Bowl: Your host team in January will be ... Southern Cal.

Missouri at Nebraska—Mizzou's 17-7 victory last year enabled the Tigers to tie the Cornhuskers for the Big Eight title. This time, they both have great runners, slippery receivers and strong lines, but Nebraska also has a quarterback ... two, in fact, Nebraska.

Michigan at Purdue—The Boilermakers went from the ridiculous to the sublime, losing to Notre Dame 48-0 and upsetting Stanford 26-14. Michigan has had trouble scoring, but so have their foes. Purdue.

Mississippi at Georgia—No one else has been able to stop Archie Manning so why should Georgia? No reason. Ole Miss.

Princeton at Dartmouth—These bitter rivals triple-tied with Yale for the Ivy crown a year ago when Princeton ended Dartmouth's unbeaten season with a 35-7 triumph in the finale. They've owned or shared the title for eight of the 15 years of formal Ivy play.

A high school prospect who visited Princeton last February after spending some time at Dartmouth told Coach Jake McCandless, "You'd better be ready for Dartmouth in the fall because they're playing the game right now."

But quarterback Jim Chasey's ankle may still be a bit tender while Princeton is its quickest team in years. Princeton.

Oklahoma vs. Texas at Dallas

—This game will have to do until World War III comes along. It's an annual attraction of the Texas State Fair and the Friday night pep rallies and near riots in downtown Dallas have become legendary. Besides, Darrell Royal got the winning habit when he played for Oklahoma, but he now coaches at ... Texas.

Army at Notre Dame—After Nebraska and Tennessee, what else can happen to Army? Don't ask. Notre Dame.

Tennessee at Georgia Tech—Tennessee's looked great at home, so-so on the road and this game's at ... Georgia Tech.

Oregon at UCLA—Can the Bruins rebound after their heart-breaking loss to Texas? Yes. UCLA.

Iowa State at Colorado—The Cyclones have a 3-0 record for the first time since 1961. They didn't make it 4-0 then and they won't now. Colorado.

Reds Could Become a New Dynasty

By GEORGE STRODE

Associated Press Sports Writer
CINCINNATI (AP) — Are the Cincinnati Reds the next dynasty of major league baseball?

Bob Howsam avoids using the word dynasty. The Reds' general manager, however, does talk like that could be the situation.

In his three years since he came here from St. Louis, Howsam has put together the youngest team in the National League—and the best.

Of the 25 World Series eligibles against the Baltimore Orioles, only four Reds are 30 or older. The oldest regulars, both only 28, are right fielder Pete Rose and second baseman Tommy Helms.

The pitchers are so young it must cause rival managers many sleepless nights.

Don Gullett is just 19, Milt Wilcox 20, opening World Series starter Gary Nolan 22, Wayne Granger and Jim Merritt 26 and Jim McGlothlin 27.

Tony Cloninger, at 30, is the only pitcher of the 10-man mound staff past his 20s.

When Howsam came here, he said: "I want people to say, 'There are three kinds of baseball players—good baseball players, major league baseball players and Cincinnati baseball players.'"

"I want people to say, 'That's something special. That is the best.'"

He's nearing his goal with a bearded scouting staff—from seven to 17 now—and young playing talent nurtured by patient Reds Manager Sparky Anderson.

Anderson's stopping Pittsburgh in the playoffs with kids like Gullett and Wilcox prompted Pirates Manager Danny Murtagh to say:

"My confidence in kids goes so far, that that guy (Anderson) is a mad man."

The Reds are using seven No. 1 or No. 2 draft choices. Left fielder Bernie Carbo and pitcher Mel Behney, Gullett and Nolan were top picks and the Reds lapped catcher John Bench, infielder Darrell Chaney and Wilcox as second-round selections since the draft started in 1966.

Anderson has a ready answer for why he trusts the youngster in critical situations.

"I've always been with kids. I understand them. I've been in their corner since spring training. That's the thing with these kids. They know you have faith in them."

His move to keep Gullett over the veteran Alvin Jackson in spring training typifies Anderson's thinking.

"We had to have a left-hander. Every club knew it and wouldn't give us anything in a trade. I took the kid. Jackson's talent was gone and I don't mean that as a slam," Sparky said.

Porks Sparkle in Passing Workout

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas' passing game sparkled Tuesday as the Razorbacks went through a spirited workout in pads.

"Our passing and pass receivers were very consistent today," said Coach Frank Broyles. "It was probably the best it has been all fall. I'm quite pleased with that."

Safety Gus Risher was moved Tuesday to wide receiver where he will work at both split end and flanker. Senior Steve Walters will start Saturday at safety.

Broyles reminded the Razorbacks that Saturday's game against Baylor will be the Bears' conference opener.

"Baylor has wiped its slate clean and will really be ready for us," Broyles said.

Says Orioles Could Be at Disadvantage

By GORDON BEARD

Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles could be at a disadvantage playing World Series games on Cincinnati's artificial turf, but the Reds may face a stiffer challenge when they encounter Baltimore's infamous hitting background.

Ever since the Orioles returned to the major leagues in 1954, batters have complained about the white houses which form the chief backdrop behind the center field fence.

Gripes don't come only from the opposition. The Orioles complain, too.

Trees planted beyond the fence haven't grown high enough, and there has been talk about erecting a fence just to provide the proper dark background.

At an Orioles' stockholders meeting, a minor stockholder took note of the constant complaints and suggested that the club offer to foot the bill for painting the houses across the street a different color.

"The Reds are going to be shocked when they see the ball come out of those white houses," said Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver. "It may take them two games to see the ball. That's a fact."

"It even bothers us to a certain extent," Weaver said, "but we're more used to it and we know a few things we can do about it."

Even the Minnesota Twins, who play at least six games in Memorial Stadium every year, complained after Jim Palmer held them to seven hits and struck out 12 in Baltimore's 6-1 American League pennant clincher on Monday.

Even though the Twins had played in the park before, Weaver said he understood their complaint because it was a day game. "Most day games in Baltimore are low-scoring games," he said.

As for the Cincinnati Astroturf, Weaver contends it "won't be a factor at all."

"In fact," he said, "our field is more unpredictable. Grass on top of dirt differs from day to day because of the amount of moisture in the air or on the ground. The infield might be fast or slow depending on Mother Nature. On Astroturf, after you field a few grounders, you know exactly what the ball is going to do."

Baltimore outfielder Frank Robinson, who played in the All-Star game at Cincinnati, said both infielders and outfielders have to play deeper on the Astroturf because the ball travels faster.

"You have to be careful on line drives and on high flies which take a big bounce," Robinson said. "And I don't think there's enough dirt around the bases. You have to think about getting to a certain spot before beginning your slide."

Second baseman Dave Johnson said he thought the artificial surface in Cincinnati was deeper than in other parks, providing a softer bounce.

"I think the big adjustment is deciding how far to play back," he said. "But after practicing there Friday, we shouldn't have any trouble."

"They tell me the Astroturf makes average infielders good, and good ones great," Johnson said.

The Orioles have three infielders who were given "Golden Glove" awards after being voted the best in the American League at their positions last season — Johnson, shortstop Mark Belanger and third baseman Brooks Robinson.

First baseman Boog Powell failed to win and complete an Oriole infield sweep. But, Johnson pointed out, "Boogger had 121 runs batted in this year."

State Indians Concentrate on Trinity

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas State University Indians concentrated on unit drills Tuesday as they prepared for this week's Southland Conference opener against Trinity University.

Coach Bennie Ellender said Trinity's strong offense concerned him because the Indians have not faced a "strong, straight-ahead attack" this year.

DREW (BUDINI) BROWN, left, puts the finishing touches on a taping job for Muhammad Ali, who's training for his first fight in over three years. He'll meet No. 1 heavyweight contender Jerry Quarry Oct. 26 in Atlanta.

Porks Doing Well in Statistics

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist is hogging the individual offensive statistics in the Southwest Conference and the Rice Owls are doing the best in the trenches.

Gary Hammond of the Mustangs is the best rusher with an average of 96 yards per game and has the lead in tandem offense—rushing and receiving—of 136.8 yards per game.

Teammate Chuck Hixson is leading in passing with an average of 15.8 yards per completion. Raymond Mapps is the best receiver with an average of 4.8 completions per game. Mapps of the Mustangs has caught 19 passes in four games.

Bill Montgomery of Arkansas is the total offense leader with an average of 198 yards per game. Bill Burnett is leading all scorers with an average of 12 points per game.

Rice leads in total defense with an average of 202 yards per game and has allowed only 85.3 yards per game against the pass.

Arkansas is the best at defense against the rush, allowing an average of only 110.3 yards per game.

Bills' Rookie Is Offensive Player Pick

BUFFALO (AP) — Dennis Shaw, rookie quarterback of the National Football League's Buffalo Bills, got his first starting assignment Sunday and made the most of it.

He completed 12 of 21 passes for 317 yards and two touchdowns to lead the Bills to a 34-31 upset victory over the visiting New York Jets.

Tuesday, the performance resulted in his naming as offensive player of the week by The Associated Press.

"Hey, great!" the 6-foot-2, 209-pound San Diego State product said when he learned of the designation.

"It seems like everything is coming at once," he said. "It was our first victory, I got the game ball and now I've been named offensive player of the week. It's more than you really anticipate."

Noting his 63 per cent pass-completion average, a reporter asked the confident Shaw whether he has found pro football easier than he expected.

"No, not really," he said with a chuckle. "I came to camp late (because of a contract dispute), but I really got a lot of good help. I've learned by making mistakes. I'm trying to make the most of it."

He said the Bills' other quarterbacks, second-year men Dan Darragh and James Harris, have helped him a lot.

"They haven't been a bit selfish. This has really been a team effort," he said.

He especially had help Sunday from Marlin Briscoe, who took his two TD passes, and O.J. Simpson, who scored on a 95-yard kickoff return.

Bills Coach John Rauch said the 22-year-old Shaw, one of 12 rookies on the rebuilding team, cemented his hold on the starting job with the victory.

Coach Bennie Ellender said Trinity's strong offense concerned him because the Indians have not faced a "strong, straight-ahead attack" this year.

Defensive Back of Week Is Picked

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Randy Cooper intercepted an airplane on Friday so it must have been child's play for him to intercept three of Jim Plunkett's passes on Saturday.

The Purdue defensive back—he's actually a rover, or "rip-per," in the Boilermakers' terminology—set up two touchdowns in the stunning 26-14 upset of third-ranked Stanford.

He also recovered a fumble and was in on eight tackles, a performance that earned him National College Back of the Week honors from The Associated Press.

Cooper's hectic weekend began Friday morning when the team plane was about to take off from Purdue Airport—without Cooper.

Suddenly, an airport car, lights flashing, sped toward the plane. Out stepped Cooper and, when he finally got on board he told Coach Bob DeMoss that his alarm clock didn't go off.

"You'd better play the best game of your life," DeMoss cracked.

The 6-foot, 195-pound senior from Lima, Ohio, did just that.

On Stanford's third play from scrimmage he picked off a Plunkett pass at the Indians' 46. His second steal came later in the first period at the Stanford 47 and set up a touchdown that gave Purdue a 16-0 lead.

Cooper confined himself to batting down a couple of passes and making a few tackles until the second half, when he returned an interception 20 yards to the Stanford 14. Two plays later Purdue led 23-7. In the final period, Stanford moved from its own 27 to the Purdue 38, but Plunkett was hit by Steve Nurrenbern and fumbled—and Cooper recovered at the 44.

Cooper played cornerback as a sophomore but was moved to offense last season and led the Boilermakers in rushing and was third in receiving.

This year, it was back to defense, where Cooper hopes to make it as a pro, since there isn't much of a market for 185-pound running backs.

"I dig defense and I like to hit people," he said after Saturday's game.

"He was all over the field," said Stanford's John Ralston, "but mainly he was just where Plunkett wanted to throw."

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — Utah State and Nebraska have scheduled a football game for Sept. 25, 1971 at Lincoln, Neb., the schools' athletic directors announced Tuesday.

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — Englishman David Hobbs filed an entry Tuesday for the I&M Grand Prix, scheduled Oct. 24-25 on the 2.2-mile Sebring circuit.

Hobbs won the event last year, one of four victories in the 1969 series. He has been driving a team Surtees T55A-Chevy this year but hopes a new Formula A car, the TS8, will be ready in time for Sebring's end to the Continental series.

Wichita's Grid Future Is Hanging

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Wichita State University's football future still hung in the balance here today, amid indications a majority of the players want to finish out the final six games of the 1970 schedule.

However, an assistant coach who preferred not to be identified, said the decision will just about have to be unanimous among the 29 squadmen remaining after last Friday's tragic plane crash in Colorado took the lives of 13 first-team players and injured nine others.

The players arrived at no decision Tuesday whether to continue, and were to try again this morning.

Dr. Clark Ahlberg, president of Wichita State, and Dewitt Weaver, commissioner of the Missouri Valley Conference, huddled with the surviving players Tuesday in a question-and-answer session.

Bob Seaman, chief assistant to head Coach Ben Wilson, who died in the crash, didn't return from Denver until late Tuesday. He is considered by some as a good bet to succeed Wilson on an interim basis.

If the players decide to play—facing Cincinnati, Arkansas, Tulsa, Memphis State, North Texas State and Louisville in that order beginning Oct. 17—the university will insist that the National Collegiate Athletic Association waive a rule which limits football players to three years of postseason competition.

"We would want assurance now from the NCAA council," said Dr. Robert Holmer, Wichita State's faculty representative to the Missouri Valley, "that out freshmen would not lose their postseason eligibility four years from now."

If Wichita State decides to play and the NCAA waives the eligibility rule, the Shockers would have 43 frosh available. Many consider them the finest freshman team assembled by Wichita State.

Regular quarterback Bob Renner and tight end Mike Bruce possibly could play in a couple of weeks, too. Both survived the crash and have returned to Wichita in good condition after a few days' hospitalization.

Seven other injured players aren't expected to be able to play again this season.

LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

Lose 10 to 20 Pounds A Year With Walking

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

If you are having a problem controlling your weight a change in your physical activity may help a great deal. Fat stores develop because you either eat—or drink—too many calories or don't exercise enough. Exercise programs and diets often fail because they are undertaken on a crash basis rather than as permanent living habits.

If you want to use exercise to lose fat you don't need to work the heart and circulation at the high levels resulting from jogging, running or a number of competitive sports. A brisk 30-minute walk each day will cause most average-weight people to lose at least 10 pounds a year—PROVIDED they don't increase their usual calorie intake. If you need to lose more fat or lose faster, the best approach is to increase your walking time gradually. An hour a day can eliminate 20 pounds of fat by the end of the year.

Losing fat by exercise does not always mean losing weight. In fact, you can gain weight while losing fat. This is why the bathroom scales don't tell the whole truth. I first learned this by studying young, healthy men put to bed rest, to find out how weightlessness during space flight would affect the astronauts. The explanation is that one pound of fat tissue contains five times as many calories as one pound of lean muscle.

Theoretically, if you converted all the calories in one pound of fat to muscle tissue you would gain four pounds net weight. With inactivity, as the calories in muscles are converted to fat, you lose pounds but not calories. If five pounds of muscle turns to fat you will lose four pounds net weight.

The difference in calories in fat and muscle explains why so many people who go on a combined diet and exercise program fail to lose weight. The waistline may slim and the body become firmer—then when they step on the scales they are disappointed to see that they haven't lost weight. The best way to tell if you are losing undesirable fat or not is to feel a fold of the skin around the waist. Any major fat roll under the skin is evidence you still have work to do.

Remember, if your goal is to lose ugly and unhealthy fat stores, regular exercise DAILY, even in small amounts, can do the trick—if you are patient and stay away from the calories. It is persistence that counts.

Election Suit Dismissed by Judge

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A suit challenging the constitutionality of the state general election runoff law was dismissed Monday in Circuit Court here.

Judge Tom Digby said the law, passed in 1969, did not conflict with the state Constitution.

The law requires a runoff two weeks after the November general election in races for state legislative, judicial and executive branch positions if no candidate wins a majority of the votes.

The statute was passed because of the emergence of the American party in Arkansas as a third party. Under the law, a runoff would be a possibility this year if none of the three candidates for governor received more than 50 per cent of the vote.

The three Republican members of the state Election Commission had filed the suit. The six Democratic members were named as defendants. Ronald May of Little Rock, general counsel of the state GOP, said Digby's ruling would be appealed to the state Supreme Court.

The state Constitution says that the candidates having the "highest number of votes" in

In recent articles we have talked about working points. In slam bidding it is fine to count points as a whole but winning players try to determine just how hard their points are going to work for contests for governor, secretary of state, treasurer, state auditor and attorney general shall be elected to those offices. It does not say whether the highest number is a majority, more than half, or a plurality, the most votes.

Digby ruled that his opinion was that the words "highest number of votes" contained in the Constitution were broad enough to encompass the meaning of "a majority" as well as the meaning of "a plurality."

In upholding the law, Digby cited a state Supreme Court ruling in a case concerning constitutional provisions that a county seat could not be established or changed "without consent of the majority ..."

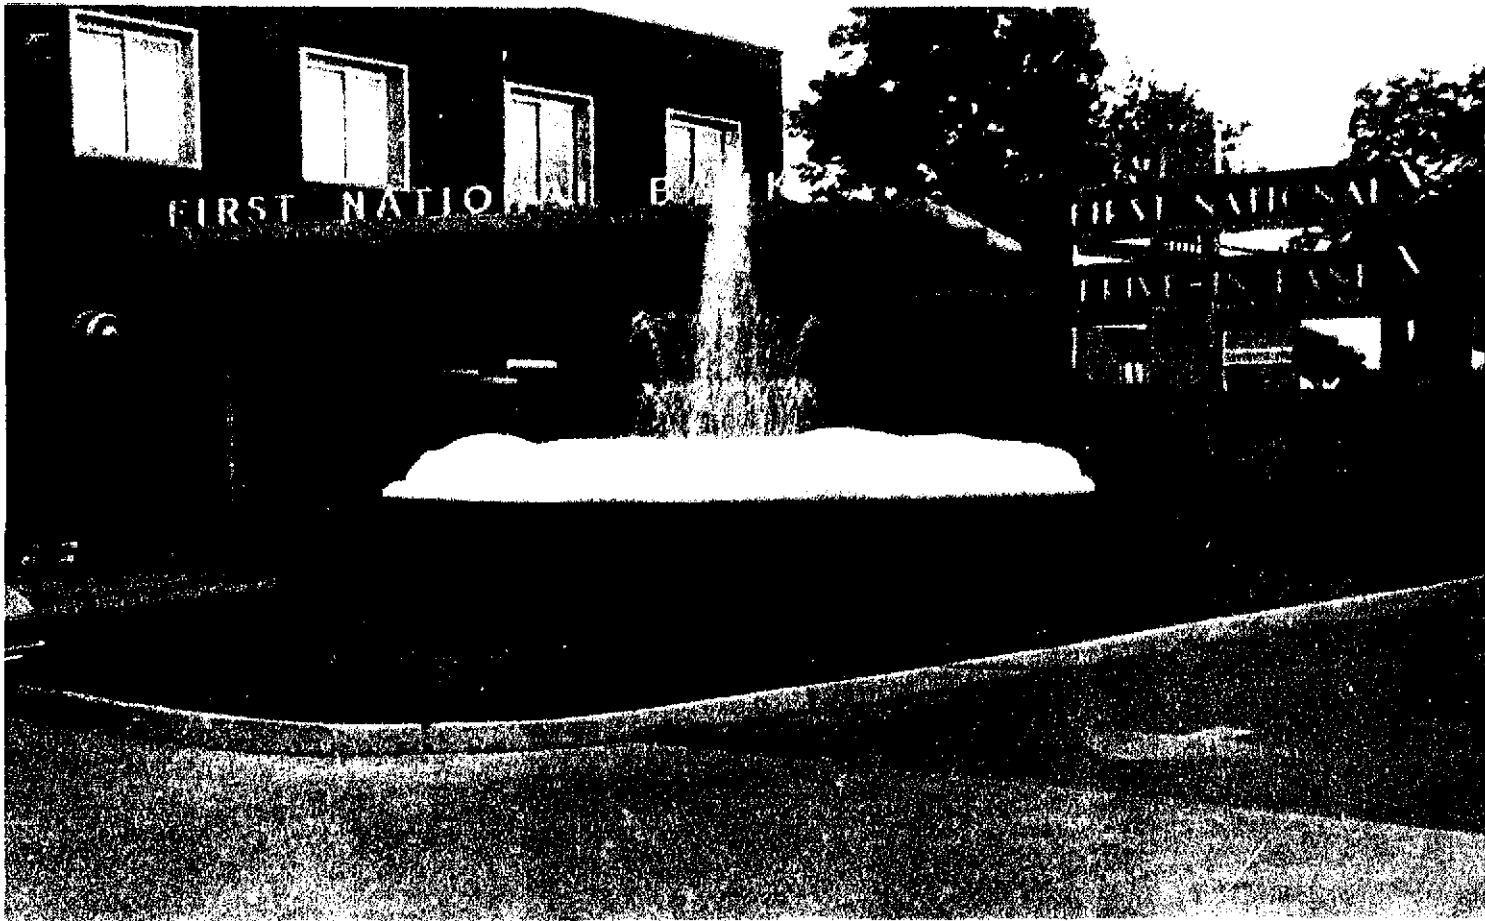

The Supreme Court said in the ruling that the chief objective of the state Constitution was to impose limitations on departments of government. The court said the legislature was bound by the constitutional limitations, but could provide additional or higher conditions without violating the constitution.

"Therefore, for the legislature to have provided for the election of the governor, secretary of state, treasurer of state, auditor of state and attorney general at any other times would have been contravene to the specific provision of Article 6, Section 3."

Smith Gets Credit for Defense Play

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) The entire defensive unit of the unbeaten Denver Broncos who manhandled Len Dawson and shut down the world champion Kansas City Chiefs' offense has been cited by the Associated Press for the week's defensive honors in the National Football League.

The Broncos dumped Dawson seven times, shook loose two fumbles, intercepted three passes and held the Chief's vaunted

This was the scene Saturday morning at the First National Bank's Fountain. Someone tossed soap into the fountain and the result is a lot of hard work air game to 33 yards Sunday while winning 26-13 for their third straight.

Paul Smith, a defensive tackle, got Dawson three times while the other members of the front four — Rich Jackson, Dave Costa and Pete Duranko — turned up the heat. Cornell Gordon, Bill Thompson and Charlie Greer each picked off a Dawson pass.

In three regular-season games the Broncos have given up three touchdowns and a total of only 36 points. The enemy running attack has gained a total of 199 yards, just 66 per game. Nobody as thrown a touchdown pass against the Denver secondary.

After the victory over the Chiefs, Denver Coach Lou Saban commented, "This is going to shake a few people up." He was right. The Broncos are the only unbeaten team in the American Conference and the teams expected to be leading the Western Division, Kansas City and Oakland, are down. The Chiefs are 1-2 and the Raiders 0-2-1.

"I think we have shown in our three games so far that we can hang tough," said Saban.

Bucks Think What 2 Stars Might Do

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
If one super-star can lift the Milwaukee Bucks from last place to second, think of what two such stars can do. It's certain the Bucks are thinking.

With Lew Alcindor and only a so-so supporting cast, the Bucks still managed to finish within only four games of the world champion New York Knicks in the Eastern Division last season.

Under the new National Basketball realignment of four divisions, the Bucks now reside in the Midwest Division, the Knicks in the Atlantic. And now the Bucks have Oscar Robertson.

If there was one thing the Bucks sorely needed last year, it was a ball handler and leader in the backcourt to take charge of a young team. Robertson more than fills the bill.

As an added strengthener, the Bucks also picked up Bob Boozer and Lucius Allen to fill out their bench.

Young starters Bob Dan-dridge, Greg Smith and Jon McGlocklin also should improve under Robertson's guidance.

With Detroit, Chicago and Phoenix the other teams in the Division, Milwaukee's biggest obstacles toward a spot in the NBA championship series should come from the Pacific Division with Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The Lakers should improve on the team that took the Knicks seven games in the final last year with Wilt Chamberlain, injured most of last season, back and Gail Goodrich added to the backcourt in a trade with Phoenix for reserve Mel Counts.

But gone is starter Dick Gar-rett, Keith Erickson is holding out and Elgin Baylor, 36, is a year older, along with Chamberlain, 34.

The Warriors, with Al Attles starting his first full year as coach, should give the Lakers a run for the Pacific title if Nate Thurmond, recovering again from knee surgery, can avoid injury. Veterans Clyde Lee, Jerry Lucas and Jeff Mullins also return.

With two teams from each division making the playoffs, Detroit looks like a good pick to finish second, a distant second, to Milwaukee.

The Pistons finally have their big man, $1.9 million Bob Lan-ier, who was slowed by injuries, but should turn around Detroit from a last place team. Detroit already has a top notch court with Dave Bing and Jimmy Walker.

Chicago still has Jerry Sloan and Chet Walker and Phoenix has Connie Hawkins and new Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons from Kansas State ... not enough to reach the playoffs.

San Diego could be a surprise in the Pacific with Elvin Hayes now joined by rugged rookie Rudy Tomjanovich and veteran guard Larry Siegfried. Don Ko-jis, who had his problems with Hayes, is gone.

Seattle has only Player-Coach Len Wilkins, Bob Rule and Ko-jis, and Portland's expansion club has only enthusiasm and Coach Rolland Todd, a winner at Nevada.

Baseball's Top Brass, Umps Huddle

NEW YORK (AP) — Base-ball's top brass huddles with major league umpires today, hoping to whack out a final salary settlement and give clear sailing to the World Series. Umpire representatives, joined by their attorney, Jack Reynolds of Chicago, were scheduled to meet in Commissioner Bowie Kuhn's office along with Amer-ican League President Joe Cro-nin and National League chief Charles "Chub" Feeney.

The Major League Umpires Association struck the first game of the baseball playoffs last Saturday in Pittsburgh and Minneapolis-St. Paul, but went back to work Sunday under a temporary agreement of $3,000 per man for the playoffs and $7,000 for the series.

The umpires have been asking $5,000 and $10,000, which would amount to a $2,500 and $3,500 raise over the amount the own-ers had previously agreed to pay.

Bumpers Says WR Wants to Control Boards

LAKE VILLAGE, Ark. (AP) — Dale Bumpers of Charleston, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee charged Tuesday that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller was seeking a third term so that he could appoint a majority of the members on state boards and commissions.

Bumpers, speaking to about 50 persons in front of the Chicot County Courthouse, said that Arkansans have lost confidence in Rockefeller's administration.

He attributed the loss of con-fidence to the governor's state-ment that he would not seek a third term and then doing so. Rockefeller has said he was naive in making the two-term statement.

Bumpers also said that the people of Arkansas are looking for a new face in politics.

"I may not be the best gov-ernor this state has ever had," he said, but he said he would go into office without his hands tied because of political prom-ises made during the campaign.

He also said incentives need to be set up to keep medically trained persons in the state and to entice them to go to rural communities.

He also reiterated that he would continue to talk about the issues in the campaign.

Bumpers also spoke to a rally at McGehee, but said nothing new.

Conservative Spending

1966 threatened a taxpayer's suit on a contract of the State Purchasing Agent concerning auto license tags. The contract was voided, saving thousands of dollars (20¢ per tag) for the state.

1966 was chairman of the Legislative Joint Auditing Committee that exposed the scandalous "midnight raises" to the State Highway Department.

1967 as Speaker of the House, he reduced expenditures for legislative sessions by eliminating inefficiencies and special patronage. His action for the people saved the state over $60,000.

1967 stopped the tradition of Speaker of the House receiving $1,800 a year for "public relations purposes."

1969 organized opposition to a proposed public relations allowance of $300 per month for legislators while not in session.
Even after three attempts, the bill never passed. This saved the state over $90,000.

1969 brought taxpayer's suit, which voided a $36,000 contract of the State Aeronautics Commission to purchase a $19,000 plane.

1969 sponsored legislation to clearly define the state's authority under lease-purchase agreements. This came as a result of the State Aeronautics Commission Hearing.

1969 led the fight against the Sheriff Transfer Bill. The bill kept the administration from an accurate examination of use of public funds by county sheriffs and other county officials.

1969 headed the battle against a special interest bill which gave legislators favored treatment under the state retirement system

Education

1959 sponsored bill to give local school boards the discretion to open the schools that had been closed by the integrationsegregation acts of 1957, which had taken away the school boards' power to control their own affairs.

1959 sponsored a bill to allow the people of a closed school district to vote whether or not to re-open that school.
This was an attempt to return school board affairs to local control.

1965 sponsored resolution urging banks of Arkansas to invest in low-yield industrial development bonds, which would help build industries that come to Arkansas.

Insurance

1963 introduced legislation
to control the sale of mail-order insurance at a time when the public was being subjected to out-of-state proposals from unlicensed insurance companies.

1963 sponsored legislation
requiring all state-licensed insurance companies to offer to the public protection against the uninsured motorist and penalize persons who did not carry auto liability insurance.

1963 sponsored legislation that gave the Insurance Commissioner more authority to stop unfair practices of fly-by-night insurance companies selling group insurance.

1965 sponsored legislation that became law requiring all insurance companies to give all policy holders the option of purchasing protection against uninsured motorists.

Elections

1959 introduced a bill requiring removal of campaign election signs within 30 days after the General Election.

1965 led the opposition that defeated a bill to put an incumbent's name first on the election ballot, instead of having a fair drawing for position.

Safety

1963 sponsored an act to require all passenger elevators in the state to meet set minimum safety standards, and to be regularly inspected for hazardous conditions.

1965 introduced legislation making it unlawful to leave an abandoned icebox, refrigerator, or any other container having an airtight door outside or in an unoccupied building. The State Safety Engineer now has the authority to dismantle any such container. Also penalties are provided to help enforce the law.

Justice

1961 sponsored a bill to clear up the tremendous backlog of cases in the circuit and lower courts, recommending the withholding of judges' pay if cases were not acted on within four months.

Charities

1959 introduced legislation
to permit all charitable agencies to solicit and collect their funds from state employees on a payroll deduction basis.

Constitutional Reform

1963 introduced a resolution to amend the Constitution by allowing the people to vote to abolish the office of County
Judge and replace it with a County Board of Managers.

1967 as Speaker of the House, appointed a special House committee to study the Constitution and make recommendations. They proposed that a convention be called in 1967 to revise the existing Constitution.

1969 testified at the Constitutional Convention before the Legislative Branch Committee on needed changes.

Special Achievement

1957 elected to House of Representatives. Has continuously served until present time.

1965 elected Chairman of Legislative Audit Committee.

1967 elected Speaker of the House of Representatives.

1967 received a special commendation from the House of Representatives for fair and impartial treatment of his colleagues.

1969 appointed majority leader of the Democratic members of the House.

Action Asked on Police Assault Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate panel, spurred by testimony of an alleged nationwide guerrilla conspiracy, was urged today to act swiftly on bills enabling federal law enforcement against police assassins.

"Since 1960 close to 600 policemen have been murdered in this country," said Sen. Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J., testifying in behalf of his bill allowing the FBI to investigate slaying of policemen or firemen.

"Last year there were a record number of 86 such murders," Williams said in testimony prepared for the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.

Besides Williams, Sens. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., Hugh Scott, R-Pa., and Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., were set to support their plans to combat the problem. Both Williams and Scott, the Senate Republican leader, are candidates for reelection.

Williams' bill would authorize the FBI to enter the case of the murder of a fireman or law officer within 24 hours on the assumption the killer had fled across state lines.

In testimony Tuesday, police officials from California, Omaha, Neb., and New Orleans testified they see an emerging pattern in attacks on policemen that show a national conspiracy is involved.

Capt. Murdock J. Platner of Omaha and Deputy Commissioner Louis J. Sirgo of New Orleans said in separate statements they have evidence members of the Black Panther party regularly monitor police frequencies to frustrate law enforcement activities.

Soybean Study Day at Hope Station

A Soybean Study Day will be held on the Spencer Tract of the Southwest Branch Experiment Station October 9 from 9:30 a.m. to 12:15 Noon and all producers, processors, buyers and anyone interested in the soybean enterprise are urged by Cecil M. Bittle, Assistant Director in Charge, to be present.

Visitors will observe Research work involving twelve varieties plus two promising breeding lines that are being grown or have possibilities in this area. Here grown side by side under the same conditions visitors can get a good evaluation of each variety as it compares to the other varieties in the test.

The Forage test to be shown is a new piece of work brought about due to the interest in processing the whole plant, by processors in this area, as a possible feed for livestock and poultry. This test involves five varieties, and three dates of harvest.

A third test that will be observed involves seed born disease control. Here seven different materials plus a check and two dates of planting were used to see if we can reduce our soil born disease problems.

After the tour of the test plots there will be a general discussion on soybean production. Two Plant Pathologist, Dr. H. P. Walters, Professor at University of Arkansas and Mr. M. C. McDaniels of the Extension Service will outline the major disease of our area and suggested control measures. Dr. C. E. Caviness, Professor at University of Arkansas and Mr. Ruel P. Nester, Extension Agronomist, will go into the recommended production practices.

Weed control is a major factor in our production of soybeans. Dr. Harold Hurst, Extension Chemical Specialist, will give the latest information on weed control.

Insects seem to continually be a problem so Mr. Gordon Barnes will bring the visitors up to date on different insects to look for in soybeans, when and how to control them.

Visitors will be given an opportunity to present any questions they may have on soybean production.

For directions to the plots go to Perry's Truck Stop turn north and follow signs.

Surprise Withdrawal of U.S. From Mid-East Talks Poses Problems

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The surprise U.S. withdrawal from one set of Middle East negotiations added new complications today to the search for an Arab-Israeli peace formula.

Britain, France and the Soviet Union had no advance word of the American action Tuesday, taken in an attempt to pressure Egypt into pulling back the Soviet missiles which the United States and Israel claim have been moved closer to the Suez Canal in violation of the Aug. 7 Israeli-Egyptian cease-fire.

Ultimatum in Canada Kidnaping

The United States withdrew from the talks which deputy U.N. representatives of the Big Four have been holding since March 31 in an attempt to set up guidelines for Arab-Israeli peace negotiations. At the meeting Tuesday, U.S. Ambassador Christopher H. Phillips said it was useless to talk about guidelines until Egypt "rectified" its alleged violations of the agreement to make no changes in military dispositions within 18 miles of the Suez Canal.

Egypt has denied the charges, contending that all the Soviet anti-aircraft missiles in question were in the standstill zone before the cease-fire took effect. Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad, in a television interview broadcast Tuesday but filmed before the U.S. withdrawal from the talks, said no missiles would be withdrawn. However, he did express willingness to accept President Nixon's proposed 90-day extension of the cease-fire, which expires Nov. 5.

Jerome Choquette, justice minister for the Province of Quebec, appealed to the separatists to free the diplomat because he "bears no responsibility whatsoever for our internal problems."

The separatists seek independence for French-speaking Quebec.

Choquette said the provincial and federal governments "are ready to explore all practical avenues out of this impasse."

The separatists had said that if the governments did not meet their demands they would kill the diplomat, James Richard Cross.

One message spoke of a deadline at 8:30 a.m. today. Another mentioned 9 a.m. But officials said the deadline apparently had been noon, EDT, because it was at noon on Monday that they had received the first separatist demands for ransom.

But government officials said they had received no contacts from the kidnappers although the government was willing to negotiate.

The separatists are demanding the release to Cuba or Algeria of 21 men in prison or waiting trial and $500,000 in gold.

The Canadian government rejected the demands Tuesday night. But it said the door was open for what it called reasonable negotiations.

The message with the 8:30 a.m. deadline said: "If they do not comply with our demands, we won't hesitate to do away with Mr. Cross."

In Ottawa, Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau told newsmen the government rejected the kidnappers' demands because the minority cannot be allowed to impose its view on the majority by violence.

He said it was a difficult decision for the government to take because a man's life was at stake.

There Are Some Weird Jobs in the World and Here Are Just a Few

Like, who puts the jelly in the jelly doughnuts?

Or who stuffs the cotton in the aspirin bottle? Or who pins the pins in the neatly folded new shirt? Or who ties the laces in a new pair of shoes?

It's easy to imagine the crises that might occur if none of these jobs got done. At the same time, it's hard to imagine anybody spending a lifetime—or even a 7½-hour day—stuffing little bits of cotton into little green bottles.

In older days, the spirit of taking pride in one's craft helped.

But it is a little tough to imagine taking a great deal of pride in being the world's best doughnut-jellier.

And just how would you judge

Conservatives Fail to Take Over Bolivia

By HAROLD OLMOS

Associated Press Writer
LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — A conservative attempt to take control of Bolivia's military government appeared to collapse today.

Forces of leftist Gen. Juan Jose Torres took over the presidential palace, and Torres was expected to assume the presidency.

Civilians had rallied in large numbers to the leftists opposing the attempted coup by Gen. Rogelio Miranda, the conservative army chief of staff. During the night one member of the three-man junta named by Miranda—Gen. Fernando Sattori, the air force commander—changed sides and threw in with Torres.

The country's largest labor union and student and professional organizations called a general strike in opposition to the rightists. The leftists claimed control of Cochabamba, Bolivia's second largest city.

A brief bombing attack on the presidential palace in La Paz and a machine-gun attack on Miranda's command post were the only violence reported in the military power struggle, now in its fourth day. There was no word of casualties.

Groups of university students asked for arms to fight Miranda.

82 Enemy Killed, U.S. Pilot Lost

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Allied forces today reported 82 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed in small ground actions in South Vietnam, an American pilot killed in the crash of his U.S. Air Force plane, and 21 enemy mortar and rocket attacks in the past 24 hours, most of them in the Mekong Delta.

The plane, a propeller-driven Al Skyraider, went down Tuesday in Thua Thien province, in the northern part of the country. The cause of the crash was not known, the U.S. Command said.

In Cambodia, Communist forces made another attack on the government force stalled 47 miles north of Phnom Penh, at Taing Kauk, and made "minor harassing attacks" at four points on Phnom Penh's outer defense ring, 5½ to 24 miles northeast, east and south of the Cambodian capital, a Cambodian military spokesman said.

The Cambodian spokesman said one government soldier was killed and more than 30 wounded in the mortar and infantry attack at Taing Kauk. The Cambodian force there is engaged in the government's first major offensive of the war, an attempt to open the highway between Phnom Penh and Kompong Thom, 50 miles north of Taing Kauk.

U.S. headquarters in Saigon reported two ground encounters in Vietnam and said American units killed 18 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese without taking any casualties.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., who brought the bill to the floor Tuesday, said his Judiciary Committee had removed some "extremely repressive provisions" from the Senate bill and also cleared up some constitutional questions.

"It is no panacea for the problems of crime and violence," said Celler, "but it will help."

Caller said public hysteria over crime had helped shape the Senate bill and he urged Congress to give attention to the root causes of crime and disorder.

"The use of naked power is not enough," he said. "We must deal not only with law and order, but with justice as well."

The bill, really 11 bills in one, amends a number of criminal statutes to permit local, state and federal authorities to deal more effectively with organized crime.

Seven provisions are con-anyway? Presumably, whoever puts the jelly in the doughnuts uses some sort of a pastry stuffing device, a thing that looks a bit like the clothing casing around some types of bologna. Squeeze it and blip! Out pops a blob of jelly to be surrounded by doughnut.

But what sort of standards determine the great jellier?

How many doughnuts you can do an hour? How much jelly you squirt into each doughnut? Or how little? Or is it how you hold the jellier? Or the finesse with which each plop plops?

Maybe the best criteria would be fairness—do you squeeze exactly the same amount of jelly on each doughnut.

That, at least, would be the most help around the house.

It would avoid all those family fights that begin:

"Joel's doughnut has more jelly than mine."

Murder Charge at Rogers

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — A charge of first degree murder was filed Tuesday against Robert C. Parker, 44, of Rogers in connection with the shooting death of Lola Ann Richardson, 20, of Rogers.

Police said Miss Richardson was shot five times Monday night with a .22-caliber revolver at what reportedly was the home of her stepfather.

WSU Plane Just Out of Mothballs

By JAMES R. POLK

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The government says an aging airliner on its first passenger flight after coming out of mothballs may have been 4,000 pounds overweight when it crashed in the Rocky Mountains killing 30 persons on a Wichita State University football trip.

A second rented plane used to fly the ill-starred football team was slapped with an emergency grounding Tuesday after the Federal Aviation Administration said it found 16 maintenance defects.

The twin-engine aircraft that smashed into a mountainside en route to a Utah State game last Friday was making its maiden

A Bill to Curb Crime and Terror Bombings Is Passed by House

By JOHN BECKLER

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A massive bill designed to curb organized crime and terror bombings headed for overwhelming House approval today.

With law and order an issue in many election campaigns, members had clamored for a chance to vote on the measure, closely patterned on one passed by the Senate last January 73 to 1.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., who brought the bill to the floor Tuesday, said his Judiciary Committee had removed some "extremely repressive provisions" from the Senate bill and also cleared up some constitutional questions.

Says Nixon Rooting Out the Radicals

By JACQUELINE SNYDER

Associated Press Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says President Nixon is "a prime mover in our drive to root out of positions of power those radical liberals who frustrate our progress at home and undercut our efforts for an honorable peace abroad."

Agnew told a Republican dinner Tuesday night that he welcomed the President's return from a nine-day European tour for that reason and because it meant the end of a delicate diplomatic mission.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, who sat at the head table with Agnew, was asked last week about Agnew's criticism of Sen. Charles Goodell, R-N.Y., and replied he would be glad when Nixon returned because "when the President is away there are those who like to play."

At Buffalo, N.Y., Tuesday, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller told newsmen he had spoken to the White House about Agnew's criticism of Goodell.

He declined to say who he talked to at the White House but said he expected a "policy decision" within a week.

Rockefeller appointed Goodell to the seat after the death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and supports his bid for election to a full term.

About 1,500 persons attended the $150-a-plate fund-raiser for GOP candidates in Pennsylvania including Scott.

Outside the Hilton Hotel, site of the dinner, police tangled with about 200 shouting demonstrators when a Nixon tried to

Nixon to Make Statement on Policy in Asia

AP News Digest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has scheduled a 15-minute radio-television address tonight for what he terms a major statement on Southeast Asia. The address dovetails with a new U.S. proposal to be offered at the Vietnam peace talks in Paris Thursday.

SAIGON (AP) — Allied forces reported killing 82 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in small ground actions in South Vietnam. Also reported were the death of an American pilot in the crash of his Air Force plane and 21 enemy mortar and rocket attacks, most in the Mekong Delta.

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Conservatives trying to take control of Bolivia's military government appear to be losing ground as civilians rally to the leftist opposition. One member of the junta has switched sides.

MONTREAL (AP) — Canadian officials waited through the night for further word from Quebec separatists who kidnapped a British diplomat and threatened to kill him if their demands were not met. The government had already rejected the ransom demands.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States, in a surprise move, has withdrawn from one set of Middle East negotiations in an attempt to pressure Egypt into pulling back the Soviet missiles which the U.S. and Israel claim have been moved closer to the Suez Canal in violation of the current cease-fire.

ton's Dave Cowens and Detroit's Bob Lanier for Rookie of the Year honors, the Knicks and Hawks should win the Atlantic and Central divisions, respectively, and then clash for the Eastern Conference title. New York, however, appears to have a bit too much for the Hawks.

Returning are Player of the Year Willis Reed, All-NBA guard Walt Frazier, Coach of the Year Red Holzman, Dave Debusschere, Dick Barnett, Bill Bradley and Cazzie Russell.

Three reserves were lost in the expansion draft, but rookies Eddie Mast and Mike Price and returning Phil Jackson, injured the last 1½ years, should be a better bench.

The Knicks still are the best defensive club in the NBA and, with apologies to Maravich, the flashiest.

Maravich will add color and backcourt shooting to the Hawks, and they still have Lou Hudson and Bill Bridges at forward. And Walt Bellamy, a welcome addition at center last February, will be present the entire year.

But the Hawks could be hurt if Joe Caldwell, a starter and scorer last season, continues his holdout.

Baltimore doesn't play defense or together enough to dislodge either the Knicks or the Hawks, although the Bulls will make the playoffs in the Central with the top two teams in each division qualifying. The Bulls still have Wes Unseld, Gus Johnson and Earl Monroe, but their bench was hard hit in the expansion draft and top college pick George Johnson, 6-11, hasn't looked ready.

Boston, a greatly improved team from the 34-48 club of 1969-70, should be the other playoff team, behind the Knicks, in the Atlantic.

Cowens, a rugged rebounder and sharp shooting 6-9 forward from Florida State, was a prize No. 1 draft pick, and along with another rookie, Garfield Smith of Eastern Kentucky, a 6-9 center, will bolster last season's weak front court. John Havlicek and Jo Jo White are the top holdovers, providing an excellent backcourt.

Philadelphia, a playoff team last season, will suffer the consequences of Boston's improvement. Hal Greer has slowed into a No. 3 guard, Darrell Imhoff was holding out and Luke Jackson is still bothered by last year's surgery on an Achilles tendon.

Buffalo, despite a fine exhibition season and the best of the expansion teams with former Los Angeles starter Dick Garret and top college pick John Hummer, needs help up front.

Group Charged With Bringing Race Trouble

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Walter Carruth of Lexa, the American party nominee for governor, charged Tuesday night the Arkansas Council on Human Relations was "behind all the racial trouble that has erupted in our state since 1954."

Carruth, in a political telecast on KARK in Little Rock, said the council is supported mainly with "tax-favored foundation money, coming mostly from the Ford and Rockefeller foundations."

He said the council had supported both Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller and Dale Bumpers, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee. Carruth said, however, that "in the final analysis" the council would support Rockefeller because of his financial backing.

He also cited the appointment of Elijah Coleman, a Negro, to the board of trustees at Arkansas State University as another indication the council is working for Rockefeller. Coleman is the executive director of the council.

On another topic, Carruth said he would ask the General Assembly to pass a bill to require "every agency handling public funds and every state agency or institution receiving private, federal, foundation or other monies, to deposit public funds in the state treasury, from which it can be disbursed in the same way they now check it out of private bank accounts."

He said if the law had been in effect, Arkansas AM&N College at Pine Bluff "would not have been in the trouble it is in today."

Carruth also reiterated the party's stand against the proposed new constitution and bus-ing of students to achieve racial balance.

Questioning Begins in Massacre Case

By ROBERT HEARD
Associated Press Writer
FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — Attorneys begin today questioning the officers chosen as prospective members of a court-martial board for S.Sgt. David Mitchell, the first defendant to reach trial stage in the alleged My Lai massacre.

A minimum of five officers must be picked for the court-martial, and a panel of 10 was named initially.

Each side may remove one member of the panel without giving a reason and may challenge any number for cause.

If they run out of prospective members for the court, the commanding general for the 1st Armored Division will have to name more officers to the panel.

The defense hopes to show through questioning of the panel

OBITUARY

Miss Mace Donia Warren, a native of Hempstead County, Arkansas, passed away October 2, 1970, at the age of 83. She was a Baptist.

She is survived by one brother, Mr. J.B. Warren of Prescott, Arkansas; two sisters, Mrs. Queenester Boozer of Los Angeles, California and Mrs. Laura Langston of San Diego, California, several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Thursday October 8th, at 2:00 p.m. at the Antioch Baptist Church, Emmet, Arkansas. Burial in Antioch Cemetery under the direction of Hicks Funeral Home, Inc.

members that Mitchell cannot get a fair and impartial military trial.

The judge said Tuesday he would not entertain a defense motion to change the trial site until after this questioning had been carried out.

The defense has objected to two court-martial panels selected by Maj. Gen. William Desobry, 1st Armored Division commander. The second was selected after a suggestion of the judge, Col. George R. Robinson, that the panel be changed. The attorneys object to the presence on both panels of two colonels—Erwin R. Brigham and Richard G. Trefry—whose appointment was suggested by Lt. Col. Edward Lassiter, the division staff judge advocate. They also have protested the absence from the panel of any second lieutenants or warrant officers.

Mitchell, 30, is accused of assault and attempting to commit murder. The Army charges him with shooting at 30 South Vietnamese civilians during an attack on the hamlet of My Lai March 16, 1968. He has pleaded innocent.

Losing Votes, Says WR of Bumpers

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday that Dale Bumpers' "indecisiveness" is causing him to lose votes faster than Rockefeller is gaining them. Rockefeller said that polls show the undecided vote has grown in the state since the Sept. 8 Democratic primary.

At a time when uncommitted voters should be making up their minds, Rockefeller said, a poll made last week showed that Bumpers, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, was losing votes faster than the governor was gaining them.

Rockefeller declined to discuss the percentages which the poll assigned to each candidate and to the undecided category.

Rockefeller discussed the polls in an interview on a campaign swing through Arkadelphia. He talked to about 350 students on the Henderson State College campus and met with Dr. Daniel Grant, president of Ouachita Baptist University.

He also said in his interview that he would not be surprised if Vice President Spiro T. Agnew tees off on Sen. J. William Fulbright when Agnew visits Fort Smith Thursday.

"He (Agnew) is not going to disappoint his audience," Rockefeller said. "In Arkansas, what would be a good, logical area

Wednesday, October 7, 1970

for him to exercise his rhetoric."

Rockefeller told the students at Henderson that he sometimes disagreed with Agnew. Asked specifically if he agreed with Agnew's positions on campus unrest, Rockefeller said, "He's made three or four statements that I disagree with in terms of campus problems."

Although Rockefeller never made a specific answer to the question, he made it clear that he is not as prone to blame students as Agnew is.

A young black student who identified himself as Fred Watson of Hot Springs challenged Rockefeller for saying that he would arm National Guardsmen sent into riot situations.

Rockefeller stood his ground despite some muttering in the crowd. He said he had insisted that the Guard be trained in riot control and he pointed out that not one shot has been fired by Guardsmen called out in Arkansas.

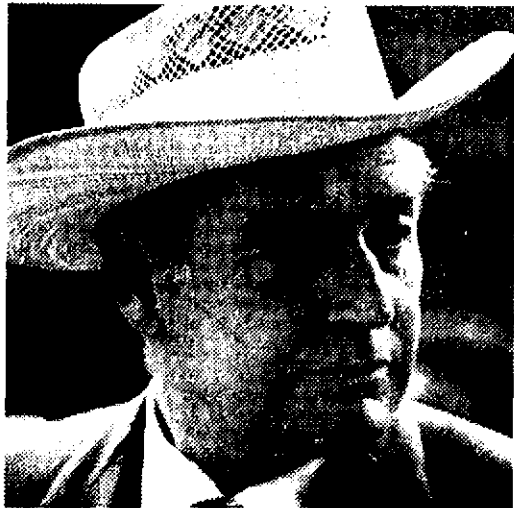

He said Guardsmen could perform with more restraint if they were properly equipped.

In his speech to the students, Rockefeller again challenged Bumpers to get specific about issues, and he provided a definition of what an issue is.

"Is the problem the issue, or is the solution the issue?" Rockefeller asked. "He says he will continue to talk about the problems. The important thing is not to identify the issues by how are we going to solve them. Some of the solutions he has offered are impractical."

Black College Enrollments Increasing

CHICAGO (AP) — Major universities are draining off some quality students from Negro schools but presidents of black colleges say they still are getting a lot of good ones—and increasing enrollments.

Several administrators of black colleges were interviewed Monday at a meeting of the United Negro College Fund. The organization comprises 36 Negro schools which enroll 25 per cent of all black students attending Negro colleges.

Dr. Norman C. Francis of Xavier University in New Orleans said, "The predominantly white college is coming along with more money than we have to attract the black quality student. The only thing I object to is not having the dollars to compete."

"But the black colleges have been left with the harder and more expensive job of identifying the potentially able student and we are better able to do it so we keep finding our diamonds in the rough."

Dr. Luther H. Foster, president of Tuskegee Institute in Alabama, said, "Certainly, recruiting for the quality black students is more aggressive but there are more black students going to college so we are getting our share of the cream."

"There is an erroneous assumption," Foster said, "that the prestige schools such as the Ivy League schools have everything for the black student. There are many positives in the black college in terms of associations, environments, programs and traditions."

"There are many hidden disadvantages on the white campuses," he added. "Many of the major schools do not provide supportive services for the students they recruit from disadvantaged backgrounds."

Dr. Benjamin F. Payton of Benedict College in Columbia, S.C., vice president of the UNCF, said, "White universities are not recruiting the student with potential, they are simply redistributing the students who had been in black colleges."

"But the competition has not caused any black college to lose enrollment. In fact, enrollment is going up. It increased 500 at Benedict in a few years," Payton said.

Dr. Herman Long, president of Talladega University, Talladega, Ala., and president of UNCF, said: "We serve the people who have been written off and whose place in society in the racial system has been a marginal one at best."

Jaxier Hit by IRS Tax Lien

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service filed an $84,320 tax lien Monday against the home of St. Louis Cardinals second baseman Julian Javier. Javier is accused of failing to pay federal income tax for the years 1961 and 1963 through 1969.
